

How Will I Pay for Long-Term Care?

An Educational Program and Discussion on Long-Term Care Options for Seniors

Monday, August 27, 2007

10:00 a.m.—Noon

Chelsea Senior Center

512 East Washington Street, Chelsea, MI

Presenters:

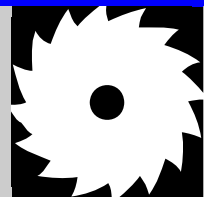

Justine Bykowski, Housing Bureau for Seniors

Josh Ard, Senior Advocates of Washtenaw

How to pay for long-term care is an important concern for older adults and their families. This program will discuss a range of payment options for in-home services, assisted living, and nursing home care. It will also cover the concept of “money follows the person,” a plan that would give seniors more choices about where to live.

Event is free. Refreshments will be served.

Organized by the Senior Advocates of Washtenaw (SAW)

For more information, call (734) 712-0548 or e-mail jborger@csswashtenaw.org.

Sponsored by the Blueprint for Aging
Start a Revolution: Age with Attitude