VOLUNTEERS SPREAD HOLIDAY CHEER Volunteer Website Offers a Variety of Ways to Brighten Others' Holidays

The Blueprint for Aging, sponsored by Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County, is leveraging its new volunteer website, VolunteerWashtenaw.org, to communicate holiday giving opportunities. In addition to the website's usual formal volunteer programs, the site has been opened up to communicate one-time opportunities for individuals, families, and groups to help others this holiday season.

A wide range of holiday volunteering options awaits those who visit the site, including filling the stocking or wish list of a needy child, providing a meal or turkey to a hungry family, buying or wrapping books for a student learning to read, creating a gift basket (supplies, goodies, etc.) for an elderly person, and providing something warm for a veteran to wear. The possibilities for holiday giving are as endless as a volunteer's creativity and generosity.

With this latest service, VolunteerWashtenaw.org increases its assistance to those looking for ways to give back to their community and stays true to its focus on helping people find "Something Worth Doing". It also helps our community shine a little brighter this holiday season. Log on to www.VolunteerWashtenaw.org now; it's worth it!
